Your Excellency,

We have today heard that access to CBC/Radio-Canada's English and French websites in China is no longer blocked. I am writing to thank you personally for what I assume was your expeditious assistance in this matter.

CBC/Radio-Canada will continue to cover the events in China with the same professional standards that it applies to all of its journalistic activities, as it has done in China for many years. We also look forward to providing our national and international audiences with excellent coverage of the Games.

Once again, I sincerely appreciate your assistance and wish you very well during this exciting year.

Yours truly,
